

ILM Level 2 and 3 Awards for community volunteers and staff

Voluntary Action Academy

The Voluntary Action Academy has been developed by Voluntary Action Islington to provide learning opportunities for volunteers and people involved in running local community organisations.

Recognised Provider

The following universally-recognised Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM) accredited qualifications are available through the Voluntary Action Academy, the national online learning platform for voluntary organisations and their staff. The courses are provided in conjunction with the Centre for Facilitative Leadership, an ILM Centre with vast experience in delivering leadership training.

ILM Level 2
Award in Effective Team Member Skills for Volunteers

Only £249.60

ILM Level 3
Award in Leadership & Management

Only £396

The cost-effective courses are tutor supported, make use of real examples from the voluntary sector and can help you to attract and retain the best volunteers and motivate managers.

The Voluntary Action Academy enables you to:

- Afford staff the opportunity to gain nationally-recognised awards
- Provide training based on real examples from local community organisations
- Access learning that is available 24/7, from anywhere
- Minimise the need for expensive face-to-face workshops
- Offer flexible training without additional work - staff can study around their busy schedules and we will manage the administration

Who are these qualifications for?

The Level 2 Award in Effective Team Member Skills for Volunteers helps learners to obtain a qualification that recognises their ability to work as part of a team of volunteers. The Level 3 Award in Leadership & Management is designed for managers, or aspiring leaders, in community organisations.
